HOC SIGNO FORTUNA

BALTIMORE, THURSDAY, May 3, 1821.

State Lottery of Maryland.

We this day present to our customers and the public, the splendid scheme of the MARYLAND STATE LOTTERY, under the superintendence of the Commissioners appointed by the GOVERNOR AND COUNCIL agreeably to the Act of Assembly. The price of tickets have been fixed at the low rate of Nine Dollars only. The Capitals are notwithstanding very brilliant, viz.

[illegible]

Not two Blanks to a prize, all payable in GOLD OR SILVER or in Notes of the BANK
OF THE UNITED STATES.

On examining the scheme, which is printed at large on our third page, it will be seen that the early adventurer will have a decided advantage over those who delay their purchases, as the first drawn THREE THOUSAND BLANKS, are entitled to TEN DOLLARS each, thus for a considerable time the adventurer will have the chance of drawing the Capitals that may come out WITHOUT THE POSSIBILITY OF LOSS during that period.

ORDERS for tickets or shares should be sent on without delay as they can now be had at the original rates.—Prizes in any of the late lotteries and most kind of foreign bank bills will be received in payment—Direct to

J. I. COHEN, Jr.

Secretary to the Managers—Baltimore.

* * The day for drawing will be soon announced and the lottery be completed with the greatest expedition.

Important to Adventurers.

Companies and individuals who purchase from COHEN'S OFFICE, tickets or shares in the STATE LOTTERY, to the amount of Fifty Dollars, will be furnished with the "Lottery Gazette and Register," which will contain the Managers' Official list of every drawing, both Blanks and Prizes, so that distant adventurers will have the opportunity of ascertaining the fate of their tickets by the first mail, which will enable them to send on their prizes to be renewed and thus to have the same advantages as those who reside in or nearer to this city.

The "Register," also will contain the correct rates of domestic and foreign Exchange; prices of produce in the Baltimore market; the news of the day, &c. &c.

We republish on our fourth page the official list of the prizes in the CONSOLIDATION LOTTERY, for the more general information amongst our distant correspondents.

Latest from Europe.

By the arrival of the ship Electra, capt. G. Robinson, from London, the editors of the Philadelphia Gazette have received London papers to the 10th of March inclusive, 3 days later than those received by the Isabella at Baltimore, extracts from which will be found in the succeeding columns of the Union.

A private letter from Naples states, that on the 18th of February, "the Prince Regent left the Hall at the head of the members of Parliament, and pronounced before the assembled multitude the form of a declaration of war against Austria, and the coalesced powers;" but the latest intelligence from that metropolis is dated February 23d, and arrived at Paris by an extraordinary channel. It states that the Neapolitan and Austrian troops are within a few leagues of one another, and the former determined upon a vigorous resistance.— If any dependance is to be placed on these accounts, hostilities may have commenced before this time; and supposing that the declaration of the Neapolitan Parliament, the apparent devotedness of the Prince Regent to the Constitution, the enthusiastic expressions of patriotism on the part of the deputies, and the reports of the prompt arrangements of the military, are entitled to confidence, we may expect that the Austrians will not be able, without a severe struggle, "to re-establish that peace," which they profess to have so much at heart.

From the manifesto of the Pope, it would appear that his Holiness would have no objection to becoming a member of the Holy Alliance.

Boston, April 26.

The Fenwick, Dagget, arrived at this port last evening from Naples, Messina, and Palermo; left the latter place 1st March, at which time all was quiet. All the troops embarked about the 27th Feb. in 14 transports, for Naples. It was expected some advantage would be taken in their absence, and some disturbance occur. The next day after hearing of the war with Austria, (of which there was no official information) the inhabitants of Messina, generally placed a ribband on their hats, with the motto of "Liberty or Death!" A letter from Naples dated about 26th Feb. to M. B. Gardener, at Palermo, stated, that the Austrians were daily expected, and all was bustle at that place. A dismasted 74 was burnt at Naples about the middle Feb. Some of the heads of police were accused of doing it, and their heads were struck off and paraded through the streets!

NORFOLK, April 24.

SENTENCE OF CASTILANO AND GARCIA

Yesterday, about 1 o'clock, P. M. the Prisoners were brought into Court to receive their sentence, for the murder of Lagaudette. The Court room, as upon the days of their trial, was crowded to excess.—The address of the Judge, which preceded the sentence, occupied nearly half an hour, and was one of the most eloquent and pathetic that we have ever heard from any bench, upon a similar occasion. He depicted, in the strongest colours, the enormity of the crime for which they were about to suffer, and the aggravation given to their offence, by the acts of savage butchery with which it was accompanied; dwelt most impressively upon the merciful charfactor of our criminal code, which restricted the forfeiture of life to crimes of the most atrocious and diabolical nature. He paid a just tribute to the zeal and humanity of the Counsel for the Prisoners, as well as to the justice and liberality with which the prosecution had been conducted; admonished the prisoners that they had nothing to hope from Executive clemency; that the benign doctrines of religion opened a wide door of mercy and pardon to the truly penitent, however great the sum of their guilt, and urged them to improve the remainder of their days here, in effecting a reconciliation with Him, whose wrath is more awful than the judgment of mortal tribunals. He concluded by pronouncing the dread sentence of the law, viz. that they be executed on Friday the 1st of June next, between the hours of 11 A. M. and 4 P. M.

On Saturday, at M. a new invented machine for the propelling a vessel in a calm at sea, was tried on board the U. S. frigate Constitution, in the presence of a number of officers of the Navy. Its success was equal to the most sanguine expectations of the inventor, and those who were witnesses of the experiment. Its power on the frigate was sufficient, in the opinion of all the officers present, to have propelled her at the rate of three miles per hour had it been calm; as against a fresh southerly breeze, a flood tide, and chain cable astern, it very considerably slackened the cable, by which she was riding, and evidently forced the ship ahead. The inventor (Sailing Master Briscoe Doxey, of the U. S. Navy) has so arranged the Captain and Messenger to this machine, that the whole disposable force of the ship can be at once applied to it; and the most favourable results are confidently expected from its future use. Should a calm day occur, a more perfect experiment of its powers will be carried into effect.

Navy Yard, Charleston, Mass. April 21.

COMMON CARRIERS.

A suit has lately been determined before one of the Massachusetts court, the result of which may serve to remind stage proprietors and others concerned, of the responsibility of common carriers. The Messrs. Dwights, of Springfield, had sued Brewster and Co. for the recovery of $1197 which had been delivered in Geneva in bills covered with an envelope and directed to the plaintiffs, to one Sargeant, the stage driver: who was "charged to take care of it, and was repeatedly told that it contained money, and papers as valuable as money—that he must take care of it, deliver it, and get his pay for it." The package was lost, and it was held that the stage proprietors were accountable for the money. Although this case is far from being a novel one—yet there are many travellers, as well as carriers, who are ignorant of the provisions of the law in this respect.

[Hudson Whig.]

Shenstone, the poet, divides the readers of a newspaper into the following general classes :—the ill-natured man looks to the list of bankrupts ; the tradesman to the price of bread ; the stock-jobber to the lie of the day ; the old maid to marriages ; the prodigal son to deaths ; the monopolist to the hopes of a wet harvest ; and the boarding-school misses to every thing that relates to Gretna green!!
